

Dr. Max Lienemeyer LL.M
Europäische Kommission, Generaldirektion für Wettbewerb, Brüssel

Dr. Max Lienemeyer is Head of the Task Force Tax Planning Practices in the Competition Directorate General of the European Commission in Brussels. He studied Law and International Relations at the J W Goethe-University of Frankfurt, Germany and Keele University in Keele, Staffordshire, England. After graduating with a law degree in 1993 in Frankfurt, he obtained a LL.M in International Legal Co-operation from the Vrije Universiteit Brussel and a PhD from the law faculty of the University of Frankfurt for his thesis on the financial constitution of the European Union.

Max started his professional career as a lawyer, practising European competition and trade law in Brussels. He is working for the European Commission since 2003, where his first assignment was to assess rescue and restructuring aid cases in the manufacturing industries, especially in the steel sector. He subsequently moved to the antitrust unit dealing with financial services. From 2009 to 2013 he has been a deputy Head of Unit in the European Commission's financial crisis task force dealing with State aid cases in the banking sector. He is now leading a task force concerning tax planning practices which is responsible for the control of state aid setting the frame for aggressive tax planning structures by big multinationals.

Max has published numerous articles in the field of European law, in particular State aid law.